

1

The evolving risk and compliance landscape is a significant hurdle faced by 59% of legal departments.

Corporate counsel have signalled that staying on top of these developments can be a challenge.

2

63%

cited that improving operations remains top priority for corporate counsel.

Over the next 12 months, they will also prioritise leveraging their ability to provide strategic business advice and demonstrating value. Providing streamlined operations can therefore empower and free-up corporate counsel to achieve their ambitions.

3

26%

said that document automation is the most desirable solution amongst corporate counsel.

Saving time by leveraging business units and mitigating risk through automated workflows may be pain points that our corporate clients are experiencing.

THOMSON REUTERS

